Brand New Book  Print on Demand .All religions are based on faith, but Christianity far more than others. All religions believe in something divine that is above us, Christianity goes a little bit further. Christianity goes further because it s the only religion that is trying to prove, with tangible evidence, their beliefs. Christ accompanied His preaching with miracles that went beyond human comprehension. He walked on water, commanded the elements, healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, and raised the dead. In short, He preached with something tangible for people to see. Finally, He announced his death and resurrection. If anyone could think of Him as a great magician or illusionist, then that would signify that after he died, he could no longer have an effect on the people of this earth. His own disciples, although they were eyewitnesses of his miracles, were tested; they did not expect His resurrection. After His death, they went back to their jobs and did not expect anything more to happen until the women in the bible story, especially Mary Magdalene, told them the good news they ran to the sepulcher. Now these people, not only were they partakers of His sermons and miracles in life, but they also became eyewitnesses of the greatest event for mankind: the chance to live after death. If this message was true, it would mean eternal life existed. One of them, nevertheless, remained skeptical, namely Thomas. He did not believe at first. He didn t trust their testimonies. He wanted to reach out and touch. Jesus stayed with them for 40 days, eating with them, passing through walls. It was not a dream or a collective illusion, but a real...
